GREETINGS! NGĀ MIHI!

Last week, the Dean and I received a letter from the King and the Queen, thanking us for the information about the Coronation celebrations held here in the Cathedral in May (it seems light years away). Apart from the beautiful card, which I share here, in a private and confidential letter, which obviously I cannot share in detail, the King has noted the various elements of the Cathedral liturgy for the occasion, paying special attention, among others, to our Cathedral choir and the fact that several kōwhai trees were planted to mark the occasion. It is especially meaningful to receive such a letter so close to the first anniversary of the King's Accession (8 September). We do continue to pray for our nation and all its leaders, praying in this election year for the wisdom and commitment to common good of those that will lead our nation in the next three years.

We were deeply touched by your most kind and thoughtful message following our Coronation. We are enormously grateful to everyone who took part in the celebrations, and particularly appreciate that you so generously took the time to write to us on this very special occasion.

Charles Camilla

Next week will be marked with the Diocesan Synod. Very often we speak about our Church as being episcopal and synodical. It is episcopal, with the Diocesan Bishop as the focal point of our unity. The Bishop governs the Diocese together with the Diocesan Synod - an annual gathering of the clergy and laity from all ministry units and entities of the Diocese. It is a place that would remind many of a Parliament. Bills and Motions are read, moved, debated and voted on. Some discussions can be quite heated and passionate, while some are more procedural and do not create a lot of excitement. The Synod starts with the Eucharist in St Mary's on Thursday, at 6.30 pm. There is something symbolic, sacramental, if we look beyond the mere external synod procedures. It is a Diocese, gathered around the Bishop, in prayer and deliberation. We might differ, we might disagree on many things, but in that communion and assembly, we express our inner connection. So, please, pray for all members of our Diocesan Synod this week!

Finally, it is my great joy to be able to welcome this Sunday in our midst, at 8 am and 10 am Dean Jo Kelly-Moore, of St Albans. Recently, during her first month of sabbatical, Dean Anne visited Dean Jo and preached in her Cathedral. It seemed only appropriate to invite Dean Jo to do the same, while visiting Aotearoa. A warm welcome back, Dean Jo, nau mai, haere mai! Our Choral Eucharist at 10 am will be presided by Bishop Ross, so all are welcome to come and join in this joyous occasion.

UPDATES FROM DEAN ANNE

Last week I visited The Taranaki Cathedral church of St Mary as part of my sabbatical and intentional pilgrimage to sites of historical significance which are providing community and faith-based programmes and events alongside Cathedral worship.

The Cathedral itself is closed and they are in the process of fundraising to earthquake strengthen it. It is New Zealand's oldest stone church, built in 1846, and a site of significant NZ history.

As part of the larger project to strengthen the Cathedral, Te Whare Hononga -The House

That Binds, has been developed with mana whenua Ngāti Te Whiti. This whare will be a waharoa (gateway) to the many important stories linked within this special place and will be the heart of a compelling visitor experience. The vicarage has been brought forward and re-purposed for Church hospitality downstairs and the Sir Paul Reeves Education Centre upstairs. A courtyard has been created between buildings making it open and welcoming to all.

The essence of a cathedral is that it belongs to the community and mirrors whatever makes that community rejoice or sorrow. God requires that of us." - Sir Paul Reeves 2010
